Which task(s) did you have the most trouble with? *

- ☑ Task1: Search for a specific avatar
- ☐ Task2: Turn the video output on/off
- ☐ Task3: Choose Alan Rickman as the current avatar
- ☐ Task4: Choose sad emotion for Alan Rickman
- ☑ Task5: Remove and then add Rowan Atkinson from favorites
- ☐ Task6: Add a new avatar
- ☐ Task7: Add a happy picture for the new avatar
- ☐ Task8: Set the new avatar's newly added happy picture as the default happy picture
- ☐ Task9: Delete the default image for the new avatar
- ☐ Task10: While choosing Mel Gibson, enable detect facial expression mode

Why did you struggle the most with the above tasks?

For one the search bar didn't work, which is what I used for my first try. 5 the button didn't work the first time I pressed it.

How aesthetically pleasant did you find the prototype? *

Why did you struggle the most with the above tasks?

Maybe it's because it is still a prototype, and many text descriptions are not yet 100% accurate with what they actually do.

I will use it for fun or when chatting with my friends. But using this in a more professional or academic environment seems a little "creepy" and unprofessional.

I don't think other members in the video chat will always turn on the gallery view, where everyone's video is shown on the screen, instead people tend to look at the slides on the screen. So the videos generated from this app will hardly be seen or even noticed.
